COMMITTEES MET TO ARRANGE FOR THE CHERRY FAIR

Contest for Queen to Begin Monday—Splendid Program Being Made

Co-operating with the state fair board, the Cherry fair will begin Monday morning July 3 with fraternal parades, and close Tuesday night with a grand Fourth of July fireworks display at the fair grounds. This was practically decided at the meeting last evening at the Commercial club in which several committees appointed by Benjamin Brick discussed plans for the fair.

As last night's meeting was the first in which general plans were discussed, no definite details have as yet been arranged, but there is a disposition on the part of the 12 chairmen of the committees to get busy at once and a report will be made Saturday in order that each committee may work in harmony.

The queen contest committee, of which Rev. James Elvin is chairman, has already been working and has arranged plans for the election of the Cherry queen by a voting process, 20,000 envelopes will be distributed to all the business houses and offices and public places in the city, and for the price of one cent a vote, money may be placed in the envelopes, and dropped in boxes placed at the Capital Journal office, the Statesman, Commercial club, the Spa and the Gray-Belle. These will be collected each day, and standing of candidates announced each day through the daily papers. The contest will begin Monday and close June 22. It is expected that fraternal organizations will present candidates.

George Rogers thought the $500 appropriated by the Commercial club was entirely inadequate to put on a real fair. "Let's have a real good fair, not a cheap one. Let's have something unique as we have plenty of originality. Portland will soon be too big for a yearly fair and it will then be up to Salem to give an annual festival. Let's have a big fair, even if we have to go down in our pockets."

Mrs. Ella Watt was in favor of fraternal parades and believed that with the 60 fraternal organizations in the city, fully 1000 people would take part in a parade that would require at least three hours in passing. She favored a separate auto parade. J. W. Maroney, president of the Floral society, remarked that last year he spent a lot of time decorating automobiles, and that they whizzed past so fast in the parade he could hardly appreciate his work.

P. B. Southwick was curious to know whether there would be any admission charge to the fair grounds on the Fourth, and was informed that for the horse races, there would be a charge for seats on the grand stand.

D. A. White was of the impression that the Fourth would be the big day as all stores would be closed.

A. Webster A. Denton opined that if more than $500 was necessary for a first class fair, that the 57 who were so anxious that it should be held, be solicited, instead of the business men in the center of the business district.

As the prospects are pretty slim for getting more money from the Commercial club, it is probable that additional funds, if necessary will be solicited from those who will benefit by having large crowds in the city.

Anyhow, the feeling is that the coming cherry fair must be credit to the city, and that co-operating with the state fair board, the prospects are good for one of the most interesting fairs ever held in the city.

Western Oregon Conference of Seventh Day Adventists in June

Portland, Or., May 18.—Arrangements have been made to hold the annual campmeeting of the Western Oregon Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists in this city, June 1 to 11. Members of the churches at Albany, Lebanon, Brownsville, Toledo, Newport, Silverton, Salem, Dallas, Falls City, Medford, Forest Grove, Gaston, Woodburn, Monitor, Oregon City, Corvallis, Hillsboro, Tillamook, Nehalem, The Dalles, Hood River, Terrebonne, Astoria, and many other places in the state will join with the members of the various churches in this city in making the meeting a success. The exact location of the encampment will be at Anabel station on the Mt. Scott carline.

This will be one of several hundred similar gatherings that will be held in practically every state in the union, every province in Canada, and various foreign countries, during the spring and summer months, which the Adventists style the campmeeting season. During the ten days' stay in Portland the campers will live in tents, and hold their daily meetings under canvas. It is expected that between 1,200 and 1,500 people will be present, this being considered the most important meeting among Adventists ever held in Oregon.

In addition to a large number of family tents which will be furnished with household effects in order to make the campers as comfortable as possible, there will also be pitched several pavilions, in the largest of which, 80 by 120 ft. in size, English preaching services will be held daily at 11 a. m., 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. Pavilions are also set apart for the German and Scandinavian nationalities, where they may enjoy sermons in their several languages.

Young people's work will be carried on daily in a large tent devoted especially to their use, and special services for the juniors and kindergarten children will be provided.

The Portland sanitarium will have a tent, where doctors and nurses may be found in case of illness. A reception tent will be prominently located, at which visitors will be made welcome.

There will be a well arranged book tent on the ground, easp of access to the public, and thoroughly supplied with a large variety of bindings of the best books in the world—Bible—as well as all denominational books, magazines and periodicals.

Meals for this large gathering will be served on the cafeteria plan in a large pavilion equipped for that purpose. Only vegetarian dishes will be served. A grocery and fruit store, centrally located, will be conducted for the accommodation of the campers.

A number of leading clergymen of the denomination will be in attendance, and will take prominent part in the daily proceedings. Among those expected are: E. W. Farnsworth, Oakland, Cal.; Frederick Griggs, Washington, D. C.; C. W. Flitz, E. C. Kellogg, N. W. Lawrence, E. S. Bunch, J. Riffel, College Place, Wash.; Lewis Johnson, A. J. Stone, and S. N. Rittenhouse, Seattle, Wash. Among those who will attend from the local conference are: H. W. Cottrell, the president, H. G. Thurston, J. L. Kay, P. C. Hayward, E. W. Cattin, T. H. Starbuck, H. J. Dirksen, O. E. Sandnes, G. E. Johnson, L. K. Dickson, C. J. Cummings and W. R. Beatty.

Considerable attention will be paid to the evening meetings, which will be especially for the public. Discourses by the best speakers will be given on the meaning of the European war from the prophetic standpoint, the second coming of Christ and the signs that portend His coming to be near, separation of church and state, the eastern question, the United States in prophecy, the Sabbath, the millennium, and other events of current interest.

There will be a large choir, and good music will be made an interesting feature of the program. An orchestra will assist in the rendering of the music. On Monday evening, June 5, a large chorus will present J. S. Whittier's beautiful setting of the Forty-sixth Psalm, which has been designated as "A Song for the Time of War and Trouble."

During the business sessions, the first of which will be held at 9 a. m. on June 2, officers will be elected, reports given by the president and different departmental secretaries, credentials and licenses granted to workers, and plans and recommendations made for the advancement of the work of the denomination in this territory for the coming year.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

Canners Send Best to Europe—Save Condemned Goods for Americans

Ottumwa, Iowa, May 18.—Enough canned pork and beans to feed the German army for many days has been seized from the wholesale houses in this district by United States Marshal N. F. Reed because it does not conform with the pure food act.

"The seizure can be attributed to the European war," said Marshal Reed. "The warring nations placed big orders for this product with American canners, who gave them the best of the crop, and they then canned the cullings or second grade, for consumption in this country."

"The second grade is so inferior that the government took a hand in the matter and ordered it confiscated."

Already about 30,000 cans of pork and beans have been seized by Reed and his forces are still busy gathering in the defective product.

Forestry Service To Be Shown In the Movies

The rapid strides made in the United States forestry service during the past few years will be shown in moving pictures at the Congressional church Saturday and Sunday evenings, May 20 and 21. Through the courtesy of F. A. Elliott, state forester, these films were secured from the federal forestry film, made and owned by the U. S. Forestry service.

The workings of the forestry service in all its different aspects are shown in the four reels and in order that the work of this department may be better understood, an address will be delivered by E. O. Sieke, deputy state forester of Oregon, who will especially tell of the work of the forestry department in Oregon.

As with the pictures shown some time ago of the work done by the postoffice service, the films to be shown are made and exhibited by the government, through the U. S. Forestry service, in the hope of educating the people to what has been done in the preservation of national forests, and to some extent, to secure the co-operation of everyone in the efforts of the forestry department to prevent forest fires, and to maintain the national forests for coming generations.

Needles Endangered by Colorado Flood

Needles, Cal., May 18.—Ranchers and residents of Needles prepared today for eventualities, as a result of the rapid rise in the Colorado river.

Great danger lies in a break in the river channel. The huge waterway has encroached upon the city more than 1500 feet. Despite well organized work on the part of 200 men under direction of State Engineer officials with rapping by rock and willow buffers, little impression has been made on the expanding river course. Whole sections of the railroad bordering the river have been carried away. Forty Indian huts have been swallowed up in the tide.

Today's Aid To Beauty

An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.

GEHLHAR AN ATTORNEY

Gates, Ore., May 17, 1916. I have just heard statements in the present campaign that Max Gehlhar, who is a candidate for district attorney, has not been a practicing attorney. I will state for the information of the public that prior to being county clerk he conducted considerable legal business for me, including a case in the county court, and a very important case in the circuit court at Salem. His law offices were upstairs in the Bayne building in Salem.

Because of the prompt and careful manner in which he conducted my legal business and also because of his good record since then, I am supporting him for district attorney. Yours very truly, (Signed) W. H. B. STEWART.

Myron E. Pogue
Republican Candidate for
CIRCUIT JUDGE

I have lived in Salem about twenty-seven years. The older residents nearly all know me, and are my friends. Owing to the rush of business I have failed to keep up my acquaintance with the new population. A lawyer who attends to his business properly becomes a share to his office, and only meets those who have business with him. The newspapers have handed me some splendid compliments during this campaign, which were entirely undesited, and of which I feel justly proud.

UNSOLICITED EDITORIALS.

"Attorney Pogue has practiced law in Salem for over twenty years, and during that time has been appointed to fill various places of trust both in public and private affairs. No responsibility however great has swelled his head; he simply styles himself a plain every-day lawyer, and you can't help but feel that he deserves your confidence right from the jump."—Harrisburg Bulletin.

"Mr. Pogue is ranked among the leading attorneys of the State and has a trained legal mind. He is a man who has the highest respect of his fellow men, who know that he would make a good judge, and would go upon the bench with no strings on him."—Woodburn Independent.

The people of Salem know that in the Severer cases, and the Street-paving cases, and all cases involving the rights of the Citizens at large I have been the friend of the oppressed, and have won the great majority of the cases which I was employed to defend. The amount of remuneration has always been secondary to the interests of the people.

The republican voters are to nominate two judges.

YOU VOTE FOR TWO JUDGES, and I am asking for one of your votes. What is worth having is worth asking for. Nearly thirty thousand people have a say upon this question, and I can't see every one; so I have to appeal to you through the press.

I have no interests to serve other than the interests of the whole people, and will give you my best efforts.

In the arrangement of the ballot, I am the fourth candidate named.

To vote for me you vote this way:

Women's Club Delegates Left Portland Today

Portland, Ore., May 18.—Members of the Oregon and Washington delegations to the convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs were en route to New York City today. The Washington women arrived in Portland late yesterday, and were joined by several Oregon delegates. Other members of the Oregon delegation had gone several days ago. Local club women showered the Washington club women with roses during the brief stay in this city. The Washington delegation of women is instructed in the race for the presidency of the General Federation of Women's clubs. The Oregon women are pledged to Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, of Los Angeles.
